

"Keep on Smiling"

SUNNY MONDAY does away with "blue Monday." It is without the shadow of a doubt the best laundry soap on the market. It will wash woollens and flannels without shrinking them, leaving them as soft as finely spun wool. It will wash colored goods without fading—in fact, will heighten and brighten the colors.

Besides giving best results, Sunny Monday is a great time- and clothes-saver. It contains a wonderful dirt-starter which goes right after dirt, saves half the rubbing and doubles the life of your clothes.

Sunny Monday contains no rosin—it is white and good, pure soap.

RECENT DEATHS

Wilkie.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wilkie feel much sympathy for them in the sudden death of their little daughter, Eva. The child, who was unusually bright and precocious, in the temporary absence of her mother, climbed upon a table and reaching to a shelf above the table took down a bottle of oil of sweet birch which had been bought to be used externally for rheumatism. Before her mother caught her she had taken about a teaspoonful of the oil. She was given a simple antidote and no bad results were anticipated but Saturday morning she became alarmingly ill and died about five o'clock that afternoon. She leaves to mourn her loss her father and mother, an older brother, Leo, and a baby. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, Rev. Peter Black officiating, and interment was in the cemetery at St. Johnsbury Center.

Barnham.

William E. Barnham died Saturday at the Mercy hospital in Springfield, Mass., after five days illness. The greater part of his life was spent in St. Johnsbury and he leaves many old friends here. As a boy he had been interested in printing and had a press in his own home. Later he was employed for a short time on the Caledonian and for nearly twenty years on the Republican, for much of that time as foreman. He was a skillful printer and a bright, well-informed man, loyal to his friends and to the cause of his employers. Eight years ago while working on the Republican he was taken ill with Bright's disease and the physicians gave no hope for a recovery. He rallied however and a year later went to Springfield where he had been employed ever since by the Springfield Printing and Binding Co., with the exception of one year spent in Concord, N. H. Ever since his illness eight years ago his life had been a continuous fight against disease. At the last his heart became weakened and when he went to the hospital there was no doubt of the outcome. He was born in St. Johnsbury 48 years ago last May, one of six children of B. D. and Mary Charleson Barnham. One sister alone, Mrs. Charleson Conant of Concord, N. H., survives him. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock in the South church parlors, Rev. Edward T. Fairbanks, D.D., officiating. The bearers were Ernest Wood, Ernest Blodgett, Charles Flint and Horace Taylor and interment was at Mt. Pleasant cemetery. Carl Barnham of Boston, Mrs. Charles Conant of Concord, N. H., and George A. Dow of Boston were here to attend the funeral.
